

Dan Gets a Minivan

by Dan Zevin | ★★☆☆

REVIEWED BY ANDREW ABRAHAMS

NON-FICTION

A humor writer and frazzled dad, Zevin uses his family as fodder in this funny take on Brooklyn fatherhood. He used to be semi-hip, now he's a blogger for OldMan.com who once greeted the day "wearing my Content Provider's uniform—pajamas stained with infant Mylanta." With riffs on everything from date nights with his wife ("The goal is stay awake") to shopping at Costco with his father ("It's hard to feel like a man when you're in your 40s and your dad is still buying you paper towels"), Zevin is one hilarious househusband—like Seinfeld for the stay-at-home-dad set. Raise a sippy cup and cheer him on.
